E-mail Marketing

1. Email Content Marketing Guidelines

- a. You will not make any statements that could be construed by the consumer to infer:
 - i. that we are offering or making the loan or are in any way involved in the loan process, including but not limited to underwriting or decisioning;
 - ii. that we have knowledge of or insight to the status of the loan, approval of the loan or loan amounts offered to a specific consumer by any lender;
 - iii. that we are in any way involved with the collection of the loan or have any knowledge about whether or not the consumer is accepted or denied for any loan product or service, by a lender.
- b. All advertising content should be developed and presented in accordance with applicable advertising laws, including but not limited to Section 5 of the FTC Act, the CAN-SPAM Act, the CFPB's prohibition of UDAAP, the TCPA, the TSR and OLA Best Practices. Additionally, all advertising should be developed and presented in a manner that clearly and accurately reflects the services being offered. The services are solely limited to providing the consumer the opportunity to submit his/her information to a prospective lender and requesting that the prospective lender review the consumer's information and make an independent decision about whether or not the prospective lender would like to purchase that consumer's information for the purpose of offering the consumer a loan related product or service.
- c. Email creatives should be clear to the consumer that:
 - i. the information submitted by the consumer may be shared with one or more lenders;
 - ii. the lenders will make an independent determination whether to purchase that consumer's information for the purpose of making a loan offer based on the information the consumer provides, and the lenders own the lending criteria.
- d. All 3rd Party created email creatives must be submitted to legal for approval, including but not limited to: From Lines, Subject Lines, Content, and Imagery.

2. Email "Subject" Lines

- a. Subject lines MUST be less than 65 characters in length.
- b. No excessive punctuation is allowed. i.e., Up to $5,000 in your banking account as

- d. Do NOT use a deceptive or misleading "subject" line. See important messaging that is NOT ALLOWED within the subject line.
- e. Both Branded Library and Branded 3rd Party Creatives MUST be accompanied with one of our "Approved Subject" lines. Use of anything else must be submitted for prior approval before use.

2. Email "From" Lines

- a. If not utilizing a pre-approved library creative the "From" line should indicate that it is being sent by you and must not represent or appear that the email comes from us or from any of our brands.
- b. The "From," "To," "Reply-To," and routing information – including the originating domain name and email address – must be accurate and identify you as the person or business who initiated the message. These will be checked for private/proxy domain registration.
- c. Do not use a deceptive or misleading "from" line.
- d. From line can NOT contain the words 'No-reply'.
- e. "Friendly From's" should be less than 29 characters before the @ sign.
- f. If not utilizing a pre-approved library creative and you utilize a "Friendly From," it should include your name or brand.
- g. If you utilize a "Friendly From" and you are mailing as the advertiser (us), with a pre-approved branded library creative, you are PERMITTED to use our pre-approved friendly's. Use of anything else must be submitted for prior approval before use.

3. Email Unsubscribe / Opt-out Links; Physical Address

- a. Library Creatives MUST have two opt-out/unsubscribe methods and postal addresses. One for the advertiser and One for the publisher.
- b. The opt-out/unsubscribe method must go directly to an opt-out landing page.
- c. "Cut and paste" opt-out methods are allowed.
- d. Emailers are required to use the appropriate disclaimers and postal addresses.
